Holiday Hunt Delays Trail Opening

NYS DEC has implemented a new Holiday Deer Hunt which will cause the snowmobile trails to delay opening until January 2nd.

This hunt will be for hunters who use bow or muzzleloader only. It is aimed at the time when families and friends are gathered for the Christmas holiday and students are home on school break. The hunt extends to the New Years Day holiday. However Christmas itself will not be part of the hunt. Late bowhunting and muzzleloader season begins December 13th and goes to the 21st. The season then resumes on Dec 26 to Jan 1.

There is a small window from December 22nd to the 25th in which, with landowner permission, clubs can get to work on the trails. This small window however will not be open for trail riding.

The earliest Frontier Sno Rider trails can open is now January 2nd 2022.

Schoharie County had tried to get an exemption to not allow the holiday hunt but were unable to get a supervisors vote on the issue before the deadline.

As readers will recall, last December Frontier land was covered in 2+ feet of snow early in the month. Frontier trails opened and were ridden on for a number of days before closing due to melt.

Schoharie County Snowmobile Map is in final review.

Matt Lord is putting together a new kiosk map. Should be ready before the trails open.

Excerpts from DEC Comments

NYS Register/February 17, 2921

“Currently, the existing 9-day late bow and muzzleloader season accounts for 6-8% of the reported deer taken in the Southern Zone. DEC does not anticipate substantial positive or negative economic impacts from the season expansion.”

Comment: Many writers opposed the proposal, believing the extended deer season would negatively impact snowmobile trail preparation and reduce snowmobiling activity, thereby causing economic harm to rural communities.

Response: Snowfall records reveal that no portions of the Southern Zone consistently have adequate snow cover for snowmobiling during the week between Christmas and New Year. In most years, the entire Southern Zone either lacks snow or has very shallow cover during that time. Only in some years and some areas is there adequate snow cover for snowmobiling during the holiday week. DEC does not anticipate substantial or routine impact on actual snowmobiling activity and associated economic inputs to rural economies. Snowmobile trail preparation may occur prior to adequate snowfall and can occur simultaneously with deer hunting as it already does with concurrent small game seasons.

Comment: Some snowmobilers and landowners wrote to support the proposed extended deer season, stating that the conditions for snowmobiling are inconsistent during the Christmas to New Year week, that they prefer to hunt, or that they believe snowmobiling and hunting can safely occur at the same time.

Response: DEC agrees that snowmobiling and deer hunting can safely occur at the same time.

The DEC response failed to consider that trail preparation had occurred after the late bow hunt and before normal snowfall was on the ground. In many cases landowners will not allow trail preparation while deer hunting season is open. Last season Frontier trails opened right after late bowhunting season ended. Snow does fall in December, enough to snowmobile on. Never before has deer hunting and snowmobiling overlapped. DEC says it can occur.

Sign stakes are in short supply this season. Please be careful when riding on the trail, avoid hitting sign posts. They break easily and are hard to replace.

New signs are being distributed to trail bosses.

PB100 tracks were installed and blade to go on next.

New fuel caps are needed for PB70, trouble locating replacements.

Skip M. has the 2011 Gator engine running like a top.

All Skandics are in running order and ready for snow.

Laudy reports the Jeep groomer is ready to hit the trail as well.

The new JD drags are being worked on, first one is nearly ready for powder coating. They will be solid and heavy units.

The club kiosks are going to have updated trail maps installed this season. Matt L. reports work is ongoing.

Trail Boss Pics - Knox

Knox Ball Park Bridge

Karl Pritchard saves the day again for us at the Knox Ball Park bridge project. Due to the wet weather we've not been able to make any kind of ramps to the bridge. On one side we had 18" drop from the deck.

During the short dry spell and just before another full day of rain, Justin Bates and I went down to move a little fill after work and found Karl moved a huge amount of fill on the deep side and the ramp on the opposite side smoothed off. Justin tapered off the piles and added more. It is not complete, but passable if needed. Photos and report by Trail Boss Skip Murrell.

New Route For C7B Completed
 Work on the trail through the Martin woods and White meadows has been finished. Signs are up and the old section of trail is closed. The new route is a much straighter and wider path.

Straight sections will help with big grooming machines, like the PB100 in the Martin woods.

Trail Boss Pics - East Berne

Trail Boss Brian Buchardt and Tom Goodman put up signs, cleared brush, and strung rope along S72. Wet conditions have really limited the use of ATV/UTV and tractors this fall. Trail work has required a lot of walking way back in.

 Right, Brian Buchardt smoothes the upper hill section near Panis Road.
 Project began in late summer and finished in November, shout out to Karl Pritchard for lending his dozer and big thanks to Fred Martin and Larry White for allowing the trail work to go forward.
